Basis of the examination

1. My examination has taken account of the amendments filed with your agent's letter of 30 August 2006.
2. My examination has also taken account of the results of the UK search report carried out (in the absence of an International Search Report) upon receipt on 31/8/06 of the balance of the full payment against the Form 9A/77 filed on 13/2/06.

Novelty

3. The invention as defined in claim 1 at least is not new because it has already been disclosed in each of the following documents:

WO2003/048521 A2 (WEATHERFORD/LAMB) Whole document relevant, but see in particular page 6 lines 12-16, page 9 lines 4-25 & claims 28-31 for the various arrangements of the tubular having portions with different yield points.

4. Both of the documents disclose expandable tubulars having portions with different yield points prior to radial expansion and deformation, as required by claim 1.
5. The cited documents also appear to disclose features required by many of the appendant claims. Further searching may be necessary depending on what features are brought into claim 1 at amendment.
6. The description should be rendered fully consistent with the claims as finally amended.
